EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Los Angeles-based AIDS Healthcare Foundation (AHF) is a nonprofit, tax exempt 501(c)(3) global organization providing cutting-edge medicine and advocacy to more than one million people in 36 countries. A truly independent voice in their mission to rid the world of AIDS, AHF's operating capital comes from their own self-created social enterprises.

AHF Pharmacies, thrift stores, healthcare contracts and other strategic partnerships generate funding that helps AHF provide medical and advocacy services across the globe.

CHALLENGES

AHF is all about outreach. How do you reach over one million people in need of HIV/AIDS information, medicines, and care? How do you track all of the people with whom you connect? How do you become and equally maintain that live changing connection?

The answer for AHF is Salesforce.com's Customer Relationship Management cloudbased solutions. Salesforce.com is an incredibly powerful solution, focused on connecting to customers in a whole new way. However, a new Salesforce.com implementation can be a bit daunting in some situations due to that broad offering of capabilities. In addition, AHF needed to connect with a multi-cultural audience on a worldwide basis, integrate customers, prospects, AHF workers and outreach staff – while also integrating with a host of separate legacy systems – such as health care and pharmacy systems.

SOLUTIONS

Faye knows Salesforce.com – but possibly even more importantly, Faye knows global business. Faye worked hand-in-hand with AHF’s many stakeholders to define and create the appropriate workflow needed to connect these people in a way that made sense to each of them. Then, Faye worked with AHF’s internal IT experts to create the various data integration bridges between those legacy systems and Salesforce.com – in a way that is HIPAA compliant, focused on privacy and data integrity, and supports the mission.
