

Faye Launching a New Way to Integrate Apps to SugarCRM: Synk by Faye – A comprehensive Integration as a Service solution.

Faye today announced Synk, an all-in-one integration & automation solution for SugarCRM. As an Integration as a Service solution, Synk combines leading technology with a team of consultants and engineers to build, manage, and maintain integrations with hundreds of third-party apps.

WOODLAND HILLS, Calif. (PRWEB) July 25, 2022 -- Faye today announced Synk, an all-in-one integration & automation solution for SugarCRM. As an Integration as a Service solution, Synk combines leading technology with a team of consultants and engineers to build, manage, and maintain integrations with hundreds of third-party apps. This opens new ways for IT, sales, and marketing departments to connect information across the organization, increase efficiency, and create holistic customer views –without all the effort system integration usually requires.

"Synk is consolidating Faye's decade-long experience integrating SugarCRM into one single service offering, transparently priced and quick to roll out." says Simon Hemkes, Product Manager at Faye.

Synk includes:

- - A proven consulting process to quickly identify what fields, modules, and data is needed inside SugarCRM.
- - A rapid configuration of tailored integrations between customer systems and SugarCRM using Faye's proprietary integration tools.
- - Faye's secure hosting, maintenance, training, and ongoing support for the integration.

Synk will be available starting July 31, 2022. For more information on Synk, visit <https://fayedigital.com/synk/>.
